preparation

We can transform all areas to take wet pour rubber. Solid standing areas of tarmac or concrete can be utilised immediately as they make an ideal base allowing for a quick efficient turn around. Grassed areas are transformed through groundwork preparation involving excavation and the installation of a hardcore stone base.

installation

All our ground teams have received professional training in the production and application of wet pour rubber. This combined with a commitment to hard work and use of quality materials guarantees a high quality finish.

safety standards

Where play equipment is present the depth of the wet pour surfacing required is determined by the operating fall height in accordance with BS EN 1177. All our wet pour surfaces adhere to the stringent requirements for all industry standard fall heights. Test certificates are available on request.

sports surfaces

We can offer both Polymeric rubber surfacing and AstroTurf for use on sports pitches. We prepare each surface to match the appropriate sport giving the optimum bounce, absorbency and safety. Durable court markings are then applied to the finished surface. The Polymeric system has the added benefit of slip resistance in all weather conditions.
